

COVID-19: let's get through the crisis - with Langmatz by your side!

Dear Customers, dear Business Partners,

Protecting our employees, customers and business partners and ensuring they remain in good health is Langmatz's top priority. We, therefore, launched a task force early on and implemented preventive measures.

- Our employees are instructed to adhere to strict hygiene rules. The number of available disinfectant dispensers has been increased for this purpose. Railings, door handles, etc. are disinfected on a daily basis. We have worked out task- and site-specific solutions to ensure maximum protection.
- Customer and supplier visits, as well as business travel, are being avoided to the greatest extent possible.
- Contactless delivery areas are set up for our suppliers.
- The workforce is divided into shifts, with no contact at shift change.
- Production areas are separated, and goods are transferred without contact.
- Home office is being set up for those employees for whom it is possible (e.g. office tasks).
- Furthermore, we have requested our employees to minimise social contacts.
- The precautionary measures regarding a 14-day home quarantine are documented and followed up on by the company physician (e.g. in the event of returning from high-risk areas or having had contact with someone who has tested positive).
- As a result, there has currently been no positive infection result amongst the Langmatz workforce.

Supply chain

- An expert team from Purchasing and Production continuously records all necessary requirements and constantly assesses availability.
- In order to prevent possible bottlenecks, we monitor the supply situation closely and utilise alternative sources in the supply chain as necessary.

Currently, we are confident that no detrimental effects are to be expected for our production.

Sales availability:

Your contact persons continue to be reachable but are in part already working from their home offices.

Field sales:

Your field sales contact persons are working from their home offices and will remain in contact with you as usual – now via video conference or by phone.

Stay healthy!

Yours sincerely,

Stephan Wulf
