AOK once again awards Langmatz a silver certificate

Strong commitment to healthy working conditions

Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany, 23 October 2020 – Content, motivated and healthy employees are an indispensable prerequisite for any company. Occupational health management (OHM) has been an integral part of Langmatz GmbH's corporate strategy since 2013. Angelika Schubert, the coordinator in charge of OHM measures at Langmatz, is particularly delighted by the positive feedback from colleagues. In active dialogue with management, the established programmes are being continuously improved or supplemented with additional measures. The commitment shown by the Garmisch-Partenkirchen-based company has now been recognised with the silver certificate once again for a third time. "This is a welcome acknowledgement of our work, as we have once again managed to convince the AOK auditors that occupational health management is actively ensured at Langmatz", says Schubert.

The occupational health offering is as varied as the different challenges. It includes both target-group-specific programmes, such as for trainees, who learn special health promotion measures, as well as activities such as a virtual walking competition, participation in the campaign "Mit dem Rad zur Arbeit" ("Cycle to work") or a course to quit smoking.
